THE CATHOLIC LADIES' FAIR.

A Large Amount of Money Taken in at the Various Booths.

The Fair Opened on Thursday Evening With a Large Crowd in Attendance.

The catholic fair given by the ladies of the church for the purpose of raising money to build a parochial residence opened on Thursday night instead of Wednesday as at first proposed. The ladies were unable to open the fair on Wednesday evening on account of the severe illness of Mrs. Nevis, the owner of the pavilion and whose residence adjoins the hall. However that lady was better on Thursday so that the fair was allowed to proceed.

It was opened with an interesting address by W. H. Donahue, who explained the object of the fair and urged those present to patronize liberally the various booths and investments which were the main feature of the fair. After the address little Helen Letham sang a song entitled "Baby Isn't Old Enough to Know," which called for an encore. This was followed by a skirt dance by Fern Alderson which was very well done. A sword dance by Helen Letham concluded the program.

Mrs. J. Alderson furnished the music.

The rest of the evening was spent in disposing of the various articles on sale and in some cases created much amusement.

The fancy table No. 1, trimmed in pink, with smilax and pepper greens which gave it a very charming effect, was presided over by Mrs. W. H. Donahue and Mrs. F. M. Donahue with assistants.

Fancy table No. 2, trimmed in yellow, with large yellow chrysanthemums, was a noticeable and very attractive booth, presided over by Miss Mae Lewis and Miss Lizzie Lyster and assistants.

The market was trimmed in the national colors and was presided over by the Misses Madge and Florence Lyster.

Candy booth, trimmed with ivy and white chrysanthemums, was presided over by Elsie Corcoran and Julia Diavila.

Ice cream was served by Mrs. J. Murphy and Miss Kate Reedy. Flower girl, Rosa Diavila.

During the afternoon of Thursday and every evening during the fair an excellent dinner was served by the ladies. On Friday evening the fair was continued with the addition of dancing. The fair will also be open tonight.

The meeting held by the Pleasanton Rebekah Lodge last Monday night was largely attended. The backward party was a success in every particular. Upon leaving the lodge room those present marched in couples backwards into the banquet room where coffee and cake was served as refreshments.

Rev. R. Logan is to preach in the Tesla mines on Sunday and look over the ground with a view to organizing a church in that young town.

THE "HORSE HEAVEN."

A Paradise for Horses Situated Near This City.

Many Fine Animals Are Now at the Stables of the Rancho Del Valle.

Pleasanton has long been noted for its wonderful climate and its beneficial effects upon the horse, consequently it is the favorite place for breeders and trainers of horses to make their permanent quarters. Situated about one-half mile from town is the Rancho Del Valle, owned by Mr. E. R. Lillenthal of San Francisco and managed by Mr. George A. Davis. Both of these gentlemen are great lovers of horses and dogs and as a result the Rancho Del Valle has become popularly known as "Horse Heaven," and it is rightly named for in the care and treatment of all as good as either of his brothers.

Rey Direct will probably make a short season this year to approved mares at the Rancho Del Valle.

Besides this horse can be found that grand old horse Flying Jib, who holds the world's record for the fastest mile ever driven in harness, 1:58 1/4. He is now retired from the track and is enjoying a well earned rest at his fine farm. The mother of Directly, 2:03 1/4, and the dam of Midget, another good one, are to be found in paddocks. Cyrus Noble, a colt of Percheron draft stock who was raised at this place was recently sold to McCormick Bros. at Fresno, for $1800 after having taken a number of premiums at the state fair at Sacramento.

Besides these notable ones there are a number of work horses and saddle and driving horses, all of the best stock and all receiving the best of care.

Mr. Davis also has a number of fine dogs at the ranch, several of which have taken prizes at recent animals on the place no expense or pains are spared.

In consequence of this some exceptionally fine stock can be found on the place, most of which has been raised there. Most noticeable among the flyers is Rey Direct, a black stallion five years old, a pacer, whose performances on the California tracks this year have attracted a great deal of attention.

This horse was one of the biggest money winners this year on the circuit. He started in eight races winning five out of the eight. One of the most notable races was paced at Vallejo, where it took eight heats to decide the race. Rey Direct winning the third and the last two heats, the race not being finished until after 8 o'clock at night. Again at Woodland he made a record of 2:10, winning very easily. This is the only 2:10 record established in California this year. At Sacramento this horse stepped the last quarter of the fifth mile of a race in 29 1/4, timed by Secretary Shields and others. These performances class him with such well known horses as Searchlight and Anaconda.

Rey Direct has a full brother named De Veras now racing in the East with a mark of 2:11 1/4, made this year, and also has a full brother, a pure trotter, owned by Sutherland & Chadborne, who went a trial mile at Santa Rosa this year in 2:18 and bids fair to be bench shows Newfoundlands, collies, cocker spaniels, setters and pointers are to be found here in all their glory, enjoying life and furnishing amusement for Mr. Davis and his friends.

The box stall stables, paddocks, harness, buggy and horse clothes are all of the best and latest improved pattern.

Surely the Rancho Del Valle has been rightly named "Horse Heaven."

STAGNANT WATER.

While riding through the country near the junction of the Hearst ranch and the Nusbaumer place the other day we noticed along the Arroyo Del Valle numerous pools of stagnant water and large bands of cattle and sheep herded in and about the creek.

As this water eventually finds its way into Mules Canyon and is there impounded by the Spring Valley water company we hope that some means is used to free it from the accumulation of filth caused by these cattle before it is delivered to the consumers at San Francisco. It certainly is not fit to use for drinking purposes as it comes from the creek.

Henry Reimes will give a dance and supper at the Farmers Hotel next Saturday evening, Nov. 3d, to which all are invited. The admission will be free and a good time is assured.

TOM KEATING'S WILL.

The will of the late Thomas E. Keating, the well known trotting horseman, whose death occurred at Lexington, Kentucky, October 12, was filed for probate last Monday by Harris & Donahue, Attorneys for the estate.

According to the terms of the will two brothers, John and William Keating, and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Barnes, are to receive $1000 each. The residences of the brothers are in Nickerson, Kansas, and that of the sister in Williamsburg, Kansas. To Frank M. Lee of Reno, Nevada, where the deceased was buried, the sum of $3500 is left, to be disposed of as directed in a private letter to the devisee. The residue also goes to Frank M. Lee. To John Blue who is described in the will as "my faithful foreman," all the racing stable and paraphernalia belonging to the estate is bequeathed. Keating avers that he is a single man and never has been married, and to any one who can prove heirship through any marriage of his he bequeathes $50.

Frank Lee and John W. Slaven are nominated as executors without bonds, the will having been filed by the latter. It is dated at San Francisco, November 21, 1899. Mr. Slaven has filed a petition for the probate of the will through his attorneys, Harris & Donahue, and wishes to be made the sole executor, as Mr. Lee filed a written refusal to so act, as requested in the will.

J. Altschul, a vineyardist of Alameda county, has filed a petition in insolvency. His assets are $110,543 and his liabilities are $100,733. Mr. Altschul owns the New Vienna vineyard in Livermore valley, about five miles from the town of Livermore. It is a finely improved place, containing ninety acres of vines, ten or fifteen acres of prunes, a large winery and a handsome residence.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

A Summary of Late Events That Are Boded Down to Suit Our Busy Readers.

The municipal tax levy of Olympia will be 12 mills.

The enrollment at Moscow schools numbers 700 pupils.

It is reported that preparations are under way for resumption of work on the Paupers mine.

The Presbyterian Synod of Washington and Northern Idaho will meet in Lewiston next October.

The number of paid admissions to the Spokane fair was 109,959. The attendance broke all records and the fair was a great success.

Potlatch fruitgrowers are busy with one of the largest crops ever grown in that section. Reduction of the apple rate to the East opens up a profitable market. The dried fruit crop is also large.

Professor H. G. French, of the University of Idaho, has taken a carload of thoroughbred sheep and some Short-horn cattle into Northern Idaho for stockmen there. He bought the stock at the Boise fair.

A company, called the Idaho Opal Mining Company, to operate in Owyhee County, has been organized, with a capital stock of $50,000. The directors are George L. Cole, W. C. Annett, Charles Eifer, J. S. Bogart and O. E. Jackson.

A Tacoma contractor has Japanese and white labor engaged on sewer work. The latter protested to the municipal authorities, but as no ordinance in their favor is on the statute books their complaint as unavailing.

The Japanese laborers who have been employed by the Great Northern in grading at Everett have been taken east of the mountains in compliance with the petition of citizens of the city who asked for their removal.

Assessment roll for 1900 shows a net assessed valuation of property within the corporate limits of Ashland to be $642,888, and the net valuation $617,388. The net taxable property in 1899 was $439,803, an increase of nearly $200,000.

Judge Winsor, for the Washington Board of State University Regents, has written to Land Commissioner Bridges, requesting that the Commissioner refrain from selling any of the state shore lands, fronting the university, on Lake Washington. The request has been granted.

Within the past six weeks settlers have filed upon 30,000 acres of Government land in the Connell and Wash-tucna Lake country, 35 miles northwest of Walla Walla. The Northern Pacific Railway Company has disposed of 25,000 acres within the same period, and in the same locality, making in all a total of 55,000 acres. The prices for the railroad land varies from $1 to $2.50 per acre.

Healy, Tibbets & Co., the contractors for the work on the Government jetty at the mouth of San Diego harbor, have completed the work ahead of the contract time and are about ready to move away with their outfits and the Red Stack tug Sea Witch, which have been here since the work first commenced. The total amount of rock put into the work is close to 30,000 tons, during the last two weeks nearly 2500 tons having been dropped into position to complete the work.

A few days ago Herman Robe, of Brownsville, Or., found a part of a tusk of an ancient mammoth. The specimen is a very fine one, being about six or seven inches in diameter and two feet long. It was found in the slough on the James Templeton place, about three miles east of Halsey. Several years ago, while teaching in that neighborhood, Mr. Robe found several vertebrae and other bones in the same place. Professor Condon, of the University of Oregon, examined and pronounced them genuine.

Judge Richardson, of the State Superior Court at Spokane, has handed down a decision holding valid the state, county and city tax on the Western Union franchise. The decision holds that the city ordinance grating the right to erect poles and string wires is a franchise separate and distinct from the company's Federal franchise, and is taxable under the state constitution providing that all property shall be taxed. The contention that the telegraph company is an adjunct of Federal Government is exempt from tax is not sustained. An appeal will be taken.

RUSSIA SEEKS NO TERRITORY.

A Prominent Official Discusses the Czar's Policy in the Chinese Matter.

New York.—In a long cablegram from Yalta, Russia, near which place the Czar is staying, the correspondent of the Herald quotes a high Russian official who sees the Czar daily and is fully conversant with the Emperor's views on the Chinese situation. This official asked that his name be not stated, but the tone of the dispatch leaves little doubt that it was Count Lamadorff, the newly created Minister of Foreign Affairs of Russia.

The official said of the Russian policy in China: "I defy any one to show that Russia has deviated in any respect from the policy which has been announced and which is given quite openly in the Russian press. What Russia undertook to do she did. Her policy has been open and perfectly simple from the first.

"So far from having designs upon Manchuria, Russia's frontier in that part was not properly protected. We were so unprepared that we had to submit to being attacked and bombarded. Does that look like our being prepared to annex Manchuria?

"Can any one who knows this country imagine for a moment Russia in quest of additional territory? How can any thinking person entertain such a view? Russia is quite content with what she has. What she has she wishes time to develop.

"If other powers, one or any of them, were to think it right to push matters and annex Chinese territory, then Russia would have to come in and hold her own. That is not what Russia wishes. Such a policy would only be forced upon her."

The official added that Germany's course had made Russia suspicious of her friendship, but the Czar was in full accord with the United States and regarded this country as a powerful friend.

TERMS NOT ACCEPTABLE.

Li's Advance Propositions Do Not Meet With Favor.

Washington.—The Chinese Government has made a request of Secretary Hay that negotiations begin at once at Peking looking to a settlement of the Chinese question. It is said at the State Department that Mr. Conger's instructions are sufficient in breadth to enable him to proceed with negotiations without further orders from the department.

However, as the Chinese counter proposals received through Mr. Conger appear to warrant further instructions, Mr. Conger will be wired an outline of the course he is to pursue in furtherance of the plans already committed to his care.

For obvious reasons the State Department has decided not to make public the text of these supplementary instructions. But it may be stated that our Government does not regard the Chinese tender as sufficient to meet the necessities of the case. It is not indicated in what respect they will fall short, the Chinese agreeing, according to their note, to express regret, admit liability for indemnity and yield anything in the way of treaties, in consideration of the withdrawal of the troops and an armistice. It is inferred that our objection is based on a lack of guarantees for the present safety of American citizens at the legation in China, as well as for the protection of the missionary and trade interests in the future. It cannot be gathered that the matter of the sufficiency of the punishment to be meted out to the Chinese offending officials enters into this objection.

The alleged edict setting out the punishments allotted to Prince Tuan and his fellow conspirators is surrounded with doubt. Mr. Conger has advised the State Department that the authenticity of the edict is called in question in Peking, but nowhere has the State Department been able to accrue any official statement as to the character of the edict. The State Department has so far made no answer to the Chinese proposals, and, as already indicated, will return this probably through Mr. Conger.

THE EXCLUSION LAW.

Pacific Coast Employers Alleged to Want More Chinese Imported.

New York.—A special to the Post from Washington says: The Canadian commissioners who recently visited Washington to discuss the Chinese question appear to have obtained little encouragement to follow the course of the United States in the enactment of legislation excluding the Chinese. Inquiries made in our Pacific Coast States have shown that the employing element there would gladly see anti-Chinese legislation modified. The trouble is not that they cannot get enough Chinese who will work at starvation wages, but that they can get few who will work for wages as low as white men. Their superior efficiency in certain lines has caused a great demand for these who are here now, with the result of remarkable increase in the rate of wages. The employers are anxious, therefore, to bring over enough to compete with those already in the field.

The observation of the visiting commissioners will be incorporated in a report presented to the Dominion Parliament at the next session.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.

Report of the Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair.

LARGER DRY DOCKS NEEDED.

Rear-Admiral Highborn Will Retire in March of Next Year in Accordance With Law.

Washington.—The report of the chief of the Naval Bureau of Construction and Repair for the fiscal year 1899-1900 has just been made public. Especial interest attaches to the report, as it is the last one to be submitted by Rear-Admiral Highborn, who, under the operation of the law, will retire on the 4th of March next. The period during which he has held this post has seen greater changes in the Navy than in any other equal period in its history, the Chief Constructor having begun, as he does, forty-five years ago as a Government apprentice employed upon the construction of the Merrimack and Hartford. After speaking of the old wooden sloops of war without protection or water-tight subdivisions and armed with broadsides of smooth bores, he says:

"How many of those associated with the work of this period, looking into the future, would have believed that during the space represented by the active career of man, Goden ships of war and sails as a means of propulsion would have passed; that steel should have become the material of construction; steam the propelling power and electricity a general agent on ship-board; that the demands for protection, armament, speed and endurance would have forced the construction of battleships and armored cruisers of displacements of over 10,000 and 15,000 tons and speeds of ten to twenty-two knots? Who of them would have believed that within that time the resources of this country could have been so developed that when such vessels of war are to be constructed, every part going into them is American production?"

The reports open with the estimates, the principal items being: For preservation of and repairs to vessels of the Navy, $7,000,000; for repairs and improvement to navy yard plants, $920,000; the account of hulls and outfits of vessels and steam machinery heretofore authorized, $21,772,917.

The Chief Constructor points out the disadvantages of which the naval station at Cavite suffers and quotes a report from the Chief Constructor relative to a proposed station at Olong Subig bay. He will also recommendations thereon until the question of a permanent naval station in the Philippines is definitely settled.

Special attention is placed upon the need for addition at dry docks. He says:

"There are available at the present time on the east coast of the United States nine Government dry docks of all sizes, but distributed among seven ports, and of these but one is of sufficient size to take the battle-ships. The docking facilities available are severely taxed under existing peace conditions. This disparity in time of war would be an extremely serious matter, and might result in keeping a considerable portion of our naval strength ineffective at critical times. It cannot be too strongly urged that the increase in docking and repair facilities in an adequate ratio to the increase in the fleet is a necessary element in naval development, and it should be especially emphasized that in this most important matter war requirements and not peace requirements must always be kept in view."

Russia Denies That She Seeks a Loan.

St. Petersburg.—The Official Messenger makes the following announcement: "In view of the reiterated false reports appearing in foreign newspapers that Russia is seeking to conclude a foreign loan, the Ministry of Finance considers it necessary again to declare that the Government is not seeking to conclude loans of any kind, seeing that the current revenue and the cash reserve fully suffice to meet the ordinary expenditure as well as the outlay entailed by events in the Far East.

"All the newspaper reports concerning an alleged Russian loan emanate from various speculators, who persistently but unsuccessfully endeavor to force their services upon the Ministry of Finance."

Naval Inquiry Stopped.

Washington.—Secretary Long has ordered that there be no further proceedings in the case of Captain Wilde of the Oregon, who was being investigated by a court of inquiry to determine the responsibility for the grounding of the battleship in the Gulf of Pechili last summer. This action finally disposes of the matter.

Will Wipe Out a Memorial.

New York.—The plot of ground on which the historic monument was erected at Tappan, N. Y., by the late Cyrus W. Field, in memory of Andre, the Revolutionary spy, was sold the other day for non-payment of taxes. The purchaser says that he will obliterate the historic memorial.

DEGRADES A SAMOAN CHIEF.

Upholds a Native of Pago Pago in the Possession of His Fish Catch.

Pago Pago, Samoa.—The new United States Government of Pago Pago is having some interesting experiences. A curiously interesting case arose there lately and was adjudicated by a court which included Commander Tilley, Lieutenant Commander Dorn, Lieutenant Stafford, Edwin W. Gurr, United States Foreign District Judge, and two native chiefs of high rank. The case involved a conflict of native customs and United States laws. The defendant was Letuli, a native chief, who had been appointed a local official by Commander Tilley.

It seems that a native, named Fagaima, had caught a fish which, by Samoan custom, he should have taken at once as a present to Letuli. Instead of this he made a feast and invited his friends and neighbors. This so enraged Letuli that he levied a fine on Fagaima, and set the people of his village to destroy Fagaima's property and take his pigs, and himself received a portion of the pigs.

When Fagaima made complaint to Commander Tilley, the latter sent a detachment of the newly organized Pago Pago military company to arrest Letuli and bring him to trial. A week was occupied in the hearing, and Letuli was found guilty on all charges and sentenced to be confined on parole for six months outside his own district, and to be removed from office. The court, in its decision, says that it is not the intention to destroy any good Samoan customs or to lower the esteem in which chiefs are held, but that the United States will protect every one in his rights.

As a result of an order issued by the commandant under the "Arms ordinance" the native Governments have sent in full returns regarding all arms and ammunition held by Samoans and foreigners in the respective districts under their charge. There are over 400 guns of all sorts throughout the station, most of which are on the island of Manua. Most of the natives are turning their guns in to the Government rather than pay the license for the privilege of possessing the guns. They ask for compensation for them.

IMMENSE WINE CROP IN FRANCE

The Production Greater Than Any Within the Past Thirty Years.

New York.—A Tribune cable from Paris says: Official returns from the champagne, Burgundy and Bordeaux regions show that 1900 will be the greatest wine year France has had for thirty years, the total yield of vintage, exclusive of Algeria, being 1,580,000,000 gallons, as against 1,270,000,000 gallons last year, which was itself considered a record year.

Moreover, the almost ideal weather conditions of the spring and summer, as well as during the vintage, have produced a quality of grapes which experience shows always makes the best wine. This is especially so in the champagne district, where a warm July and August, with slight rain falling just at the right time at the end of August, did much good in developing the grapes. September was a perfect month, scarcely a drop of rain falling, so that the grapes matured under the most favorable circumstances. Gathering was begun September 25th, and with the exception of one wet day, the weather was perfect during the whole period of vintage.

Of the wines now reaching maturity, those of the 1895 vintage are taking rank with the exceptionally good years, 1892 and 1893. The bountiful vintage in the Medoc region and the exceptional quality of grapes there have caused a tremendous slump in the price of clarets, and something approaching panic prevails in the wine market at Bordeaux.

The Figaro has dispatched Jules Huret, one of the most enterprising of its staff of correspondents, to report on the vintage. He says, and M. Janneau, vice-president of the cognac syndicate confirms it, that the production of brandy will be 30 per cent above that of last year, and that cognac-making wines contain much less alcohol than usual, which is exactly what is required to make the highest grade of brandies.

May Beat American Prices.

New York.—A special from London says: The statement that the combination of the Earl of Dudley's and the Brimbo Steel Works companies had purchased the English rights of the Bertrand Thiel (American) open-hearth steel process is confirmed. Assuming that by this new arrangement 10 per cent can be saved in prices steel made from Staffordshire bars will be sold for £8 4s 3d, plates for £7 13s and angles for £7 8s 6d. These prices, it is thought, will stop further American competition.

Diamond Find in South Africa.

Cape Town.—Sir William Thomson, chief surgeon of the South African forces and the Irish Hospital Corps, has arrived here from the front. He reports that diamonds have been discovered in the May district, near the village of Past, forty-two miles from Griqualand. A prospecting boom has started in the district.

A Human Hiss Cowed the Lion.

At Cape Town a lion tamer was going through a performance in a cage with a full grown lion lately caught. Suddenly it was seen that the brute was putting the trainer through his paces rather than being put through itself. Softly, crouching and creeping, the big cat edged itself between the thoroughly unnerved man and the door of the den, fixing its victim with two rolling yellow orbs of flaming ferocity and sawing the empty air with its tufted tail as it crouched preparatory to springing.

Many men among the audience, used to the ways of wild beasts, saw and comprehended, but only one man possessed the knowledge and the presence of mind to avert the apparently inevitable. Pursing up his lips as though he were going to whistle, he emitted a horse, low, rasping hiss.

The beast heard and understood, for the sound was an exact imitation of the noise made by the giant constrictor when its huge body is coiled for the throw that never misses, that never relaxes and that no beast of the field is strong enough to withstand. Again and yet again the raucous sound rasped the stillness, and the angry brute drew back its head, its great eyes grew small and dull, the hackles rose and stiffened on its back, and it cowered, whining, on the floor of the cage.

What "Yours Sincerely" Means.

Perhaps the jerry builders of London who construct ceilings part of which tumble into one's soup and floors which unexpectedly drop into the cellar would not be so glib to subscribe themselves "Yours sincerely" if they knew the origin of the phrase. The Stone Trades Journal, waxing classic and Vitruviuslike, gives the source of the thing, which to students is old, but which may be new to the gentry who profess to provide shelter for a great part of the community:

"The extent to which marble is entering into the decoration of modern buildings is but a repetition of the history of Roman architecture. The fact is that the old Roman jerry builders used defective slabs of marble in erecting residences to sell at reduced rates and covered up the defects with a cement of which white wax formed the chief ingredient. They looked just as stately as the others till an exceptionally hot sun melted the wax and revealed the fraud; hence a perfect building was said to be 'sine cera' or 'without wax,' and a friendship perfected by the trial of adversity was said to be 'without wax.' The signature 'sine cera,' as a symbol of genuine affection and probity, has been used ever since and is perpetuated in the English word 'sincerity.'"

Cowardice of

Many tales have been told of how human beings have been devoured by the fish that is known as the "man eater." Although many of these have been greatly exaggerated, they are to a certain extent true. It is also true that sharks have been known to follow a ship for days, picking up and eating that which had been thrown overboard as waste.

Notwithstanding all this the cowardliness of sharks is well known among men who have been much to sea in southern waters. The fiercest shark will get out of the way of a swimmer if the latter sets up a noisy splashing.

A shark fears anything that splashes in the water. Among the south sea islands the natives never go bathing alone, but always in parties of half a dozen or so, in order that they may make a great hubbub in the water and thus frighten away the sharks. Once in awhile a too venturesome swimmer among these natives foolishly detaches himself from his party and forgets to keep up his splashing. Then there is a swish, and the man eater comes up from under him like a flash, and he is gone.

Likewise Mistaken.

A small boy was fishing on Sunday morning. He had a basket of fish alongside of him. A clergyman happened to see him, and, going over to where he was busily watching the bob, said:

"You naughty, cruel boy! Don't you know that it is a sin to fish on the Sabbath? Besides the sin, think of the cruelty of it-taking the poor little worm out of the ground and sticking that nasty sharp hook through its body."

"That ain't no worm. That's an artificial fly!" answered the boy.

"Ah, I was mistaken," said the preacher.

"So were these fish," said the boy, picking up the basket and showing them to the clergyman.—New York Sun.

Lie Saving Pigs.

The Australian coasting steamer Kameruka, while going from Eden to Sydney, traveling at full speed, struck on a reef at Moruya head. There being no rockets on the ship, the captain tied a life line to some pigs which formed part of the cargo and had the animals put overboard. The pigs swam to the shore taking the line with them, and by establishing communication every soul on board was rescued.

The oldest house in England stands near St. Albans abbey. It is octagonal in shape and the walls of its lower story are of great thickness. It is 1,100 years old and is still fit for habitation.

Marjorie's Sailor Lad.

GOOD-BY, Marjorie, my darling; write often to your 'boy in blue,' and may heaven bless you for the promise you have given me. You little know what it means to me, who have felt myself alone in the world, to know that there is one heart beating in response to my deep love, and a dear face watching for my return. As heaven bears me witness, you shall never have cause to regret it."

"Good-by, Herbert. I shall pray for your safety and speedy return. Take care of yourself, for (with drooping lids and an almost inaudible voice) you are my life."

Herbert Lord drew the beautiful girl to him in a closer embrace, and the last moments of their parting, though silent, were full of eloquence.

Marjorie had watched her handsome lover as he mounted the hill. When he reached the summit he turned, and she stretched out both hands to him in mute entreaty for his return; then she summoned her courage and gayly kissed her hand to him. He raised his cap, returned her salute, and with head still bared, disappeared from view.

Marjorie leaned against the tree and covered her face with her hands. She felt a loneliness that she had never before experienced. All unconscious that their parting had been witnessed, the young girl sat musing until she was startled by hearing a voice almost in her ear:

"Why these tears, Miss Marjorie? Surely no one has less cause for unhappiness than the beautiful Miss Gardiner."

Marjorie turned and saw before her Thomas Braeme. How she loathed him at that moment! Yet, why? She knew him to be immensely wealthy; he was considered a great catch by mammas with marriageable daughters; he was lionized by society; and yet Marjorie involuntarily shrank from his smooth tongue and persistent attentions. She had once refused his offer of marriage, and this act on her part had been the cause of many bitter reproaches from her family.

When she heard his voice she drew herself up, and ignoring his outstretched hand, replied: "Pardon me, Mr. Braeme, I am not unhappy; and if I were I fail to see how it could possibly concern you."

His eyes flashed ominously, but he controlled his anger and replied: "Anything that affects you concerns me, Marjorie. No; hear me. You know that I have loved you—that I still love you, and I now come for the second time with your parents' approval and good wishes for my success. Marjorie, marry me and you shall have everything that makes life worth living. I will be a good husband to you."

Husband! At the thought of Thomas Braeme as a husband her face grew white and a shudder shook her frame. She answered, coldly: "Mr. Braeme, I can only answer you as I did before, and I ask you to accept this as final. Your persistency in this matter annoys me, and I beg of you to cease."

She turned to go, but he stopped her. "There is some one else—you cannot deny it!"

"Neither does that concern you," she haughtily replied.

In his anger he cried: "And do you imagine that I do not know your little game? You have met Herbert Lord against your parents' wishes and many of your clandestine meetings have been witnessed. A common sailor! Where is your sense of honor that you stoop so low?"

Marjorie was thoroughly aroused by this attack, and her reply, though uttered in anger, carried conviction.

"I will tell you. My idea of honor lies in the fact that when a man responds to his country's call and is worthy to wear its glorious uniform, poor man though he be, he has reached a degree of honor which a rich stay-at-home can never attain. Listen! Herbert Lord is poor, you are rich; but one button on his coat is worth more to me than all your piles of boasted gold. I respect him, and if he lives to return I shall marry him. Now, if you have one atom of the honor for which you are looking in others you will never mention this subject to me again!"

Marjorie Gardiner turned and walked away.

Every argument was used to induce her to change her decision, but Marjorie remained true to her promise, and when she was married a year later it was a quiet affair, as befitted the bride's future station as the wife of Herbert Lord.

After a brief honeymoon they went to reside in Derwent, where Herbert owned a cottage. At the station they were met by a smartly liveried footman, who touched his hat respectfully as Herbert Lord and his bride alighted. "Everything all right, Matthew?"

"All right, sir," with another touch, as he led the way to an elegant carriage drawn by handsome bays. As they rolled comfortably along, tired after their journey, Herbert Lord thought it time to prepare his bride for the surprise in store for her; so, drawing her to him, he remarked: "This is rather more comfortable, isn't it, dear?"

Marjorie looked at him with a look of unutterable content as she replied:

"Yes, Herbert, but I fear you have indulged in another bit of extravagance as a windup to our month of luxurious living."

"No, my little wife, I can afford to do what I have done. I have practiced a little deception which I hope you will not find it too hard to forgive. I am not the poor sailor you thought me, although I am proud of my connection with Uncle Sam's navy. I have won the truest little woman in the wide world for my wife, and it will be the one great pleasure of my life to give her the luxuries that she so bravely fought against sharing with Thomas Braeme. Here we are. Welcome home, my darling wife, and may you be as happy as you have made me."

They drew up before a colonial mansion of fine architectural design, and as they reached the steps the massive door was thrown open and the pleasant though respectful expressions of greeting from the servants bespoke the love and esteem in which their master was held.

Father and Mother Gardiner spent several weeks of each year at the Lard mansion, and loud and long were the praises they sang of their son—Herbert. To Marjorie he was the same—her gallant, true-hearted sailor lad.—Boston Post.

MARRIAGES IN THE ARMY.

Stringent Regulations in Force in Several Countries.

The restrictive conditions at present in force with regard to the marriage of officers of the Russian army, says a writer in the Brooklyn Citizen, forbid this privilege under any circumstances in the case of officers under the age of 23. Between the ages of 23 and 28 years the dot of an officer's wife must amount to a sum representing the minimum income of 250 rubles yearly.

On comparison of these regulations with those regulating the same question in other European armies, it may be noted that in the Austro-Hungarian army the number of officers authorized to contract marriage is limited by a fixed proportion assigned to each grade, and, these totals being reached, all further marriages must be deferred pending the occurrence of vacancies in the married establishments.

The Italian army regulations, which fix the income of the fiancée at a minimum of from 1,200 to 2,000 lire, would appear to be more rational in their operation. Italian officers, however, apply a somewhat liberal interpretation to this law, with the result that the number of marriages occurring under actual provisions does not exceed more than one-eighth of the total number, seven-eighths of the officers being united under the conditions of the religious ceremony only, and thus exposing themselves to all the inconveniences which attend a marriage not recognized by civil law.

Similar disabilities would now appear to be incurred by the Russian officers, and suggestions have been made by the press in Russia that a general revision of the law is necessary. The question is assuming more importance from the fact that Russian officers, reaching a total of nearly 40,000, represent one of the most important classes in the state.

Electricity Interferes with Science.

The observations of earth currents at Greenwich observatory have been made practically useless for several years by the electric railway from Stockwell to London, modern instruments being so sensitive that indications of the current of this railway have been detected more than 100 miles away. An early effect of the railway led to a funny experience. The generating station was visited by the magnetic superintendent of the observatory, and on his return to work the tracings of his magnets showed a curious deflection, which continued day after day, but only during the hours of his attendance. The idea that he was magnetized was a startling one. But one day he left his umbrella at home and there was no disturbance, the umbrella having been a permanent magnet since the visit to the power station.

Earliest Sea Fights.

The earliest authenticated sea fight is said to have been that between the Corinthians and the Coreyreans, in which the former conquered—664 B. C.

If you missed punishment for your sins, don't rejoice; it often happens that a rooster's life is spared, that he may be saved for the pot another day.

THE FIRST TOUCH OF AUTUMN.

ELMAR SPEAR.

She Is Only Seven Years Old, but Weighs 180 Pounds.

Green County, Ark., boasts one of the heaviest girls in the United States for her years. She is Elmar Spear and age is only 7. Despite this she weighs 180 pounds. Her height is 51 inches. Elmar is phenomenally strong and can readily lift a man weighing 200 pounds and carry him across a room. She enjoys exceedingly the pre and light as her father, who is abnormally developed. If her present rate of growth and development is maintained she will probably be the largest and heaviest woman in the world.

The Butterfly King.

The London Express, in announcing the death of William Watkins, one of the foremost entomologists of the day, gives this interesting story of his life:

Of Welsh extraction, he began collecting butterflies when he was a schoolboy of nine. At that time there were fields in the vicinity of Peckham, and the first butterfly Mr. Watkins ever caught was the "peacock." From thenceforth he became an ardent entomologist; he gradually went on collecting moths, and eventually he made this the business of his life.

His parents article him to some ship and insurance brokers, but while out with them he devoted all his leisure time to collecting. Indeed, it was no unusual occurrence for him to stay out until midnight in pursuit of the treasures he coveted. Taking a dislike to the shipbroking business, and manifesting the inevitable desire to "see life," he went to India, where he had plenty of scope for his love of entomology.

After a sojourn of six years in India, he returned to England, and was able to sell a large collection to Mr. Horniman, the well-known tea merchant.

He then began business as a professional entomologist, and opened establishments in Piccadilly and in the Strand. In 1881 he formed the Insect House in the Zoological Gardens.

During the past ten years he resided at Eastbourne, where he carried on the breeding of butterflies of the most diverse specimens. His success earned for him the name of "The Butterfly King."

Taught How to Kindle Fires.

Up in Oregon they are teaching in the special schools a number of little household duties. For instance, one of these is how to kindle a fire. Now, at first blush, it would seem to be trifling with time to teach a boy or girl how to start a fire in a stove or on a hearth. But as a matter of fact the mass of children grow up without understanding that art. It requires a certain skill and knowledge, which it is found the many do not have. Fire mismanagement by girls has been a prolific source of woe. It means ill-cooked food, waste of fuel, loss of time and danger to life and property. But, then, why should parents by neglect of home duty force this new task upon even a special school system?

A Japanese Auction.

A Japanese auction is a most solemn affair. The public do not call out their bids, but write their names, together with the amount they are willing to pay, on slips of paper and put them in a box. These are looked through, and the article awarded to the person who has made the biggest offer.

A long face is very apt to be in partnership with a long conscience.

FOR THE FARMERS.

Some Interesting News For the Ruralist

SPOKEN OF IN THIS COLUMN.

A Few Sensible Hints to Suit the Busy Agriculturist.—Items That May Benefit Our Readers.

To Market Gardeners.

A letter just received from W. W. Wheeler, who is visiting in Los Angeles, calls attention to a matter that is of interest to a number of people in Southern California, relating to the neglect of small-produce raising in the North, Mr. Wheeler says:

"I came to Los Angeles from Humboldt county a few weeks ago. The two places present to me some extremes in your line. Here low prices, there high prices for your produce. Here, overproduction; there, almost no production. Here, water supply largely by artificial means; there sufficient moisture supplied in the natural way. There a climate and a soil capable of producing almost any and all of your kinds of produce at all seasons of the year. The reason why so little attention is given to your work there is that every one is engaged in what they consider 'bigger business.' Lumbering and dairying have the attention of nearly all. But the truth is, there is a 'big business' for the hustling gardener there. It looks queer to see city and rural people there buying cabbage and other things raised by people down this way, but they do it. You get a low price; they pay a high price. Middlemen have the most of it in their pockets. If any of you are contemplating a change look up the prospects in that direction. Do not make the change because of what I have written. I have simply called your attention to what seems to me to be a good thing. Investigate and learn for yourselves whether it is as good as it seems to me to be."—L. A. Mirror.

Short-Sighted Dairymen.

Occasionally we hear of short sighted dairy farmers leaving a good creamery to send their milk to a city, says Hoard's Dairymen. They are beguiled into this action by the fact that they can get a little more for the milk than they can realize in butter, without stopping to figure the value of the skim-milk in cash and the additional value it has in keeping up the fertility of the farm. We have heard of a farmer who was short-sighted fallacy; but there are thousands of men who will hold a present cent so close to their eye that they cannot see a future dollar behind it.

When the losses through dishonest milk dealers and other causes are figured up, the man who ships milk to the city is always behind the wide-awake, well posted butter dairymen in actual profit.

Poultry Notes.

Many white lobes are reddened by rubbing along poultry netting or when confined in a coop along the side walls.

Early molting is certainly most desirable. How to hasten this annual process has been a matter of much thought and experiment.

What most poultry needs is more care, more common-sense care and treatment and less feeding and more especially careless feeding.

Much red in lobes has been acquired and is not natural to the bird. Males begin their quarrels even at a month old and one that reaches adult age without a scar on lobes is lucky indeed.

You cannot expect a hen in poor condition of flesh to molt early. Or one lacking in health and vitality. Therefore as a rule hens in free range with good care usually molt earlier and more quickly than those in confinement and lacking in care.

Sulphur fed to molting hens, a teaspoonful a day, conduces to an intense black lustrous color. Like hens that are plucked, sulphur fed ones will want extra looking after. Remember you are meddling with nature and unless you are on the lookout, you will pay for your meddling.

Leghorns will lay fewer eggs when in molt than Rocks, 'Dottes or Langshans, usually because they do not drag out the molt like the latter varieties. This is a good argument for plucking all hens that are slow in molting. Who likes to see a lot of ragged half molted hens about?

Plucking Leghorns and other hard feathered varieties is a great deal more difficult. The old feathers stick harder and being more nervous and excitable they are very apt to injure the young pin feathers, resulting in bleeding, disfigured and off-colored plumage and sometimes in teaching feather pulling.

The eruptions on white lobes are very common. Like eruptions on man they are usually due to impure blood. In severe cases a cooling dose of 10 grains salt and 10 grains potash bicarbonate will help. Bathe the lobes very gently with tepid milk and water every day, morning and night, dry with very soft rag, and after with zinc powder.

RELATIVE SIZE OF THE CELESTIAL EMPIRE.

The above map shows at a glance, with an approximation to accuracy, the relative areas of China, Canada, Australia and all Europe, without Scandinavia and Russia. Europe will be readily recognized, standing white on the black background of Australia. Canada forms the shaded background to Australia, and the black line running roughly around all represents the area of China. The diagram and the figures attached give some idea of the vastness of the Ancient Empire, which recently has fallen into anarchy and chaos

NO FALSE ECONOMY.

Pleasanton has long been noted as one of the finest places on the coast for the training of horses. The climate is perfect, being free from the cold winds and fogs which constitute one of the greatest drawbacks to other locations, especially those situated around the bay. All that is needed to bring horsemen here from all over the United States to winter and train are proper track and stable accommodations and we seem in a fair way now to get both.

We earnestly hope that the work of improving the track and grounds will be done by the present management in a thorough manner. Let there be no false economy in the matter for everything should be of the best and properly built and arranged. We have had positive assurance that the business men and moneyed interests of Pleasanton and vicinity who have the welfare of this place at heart—and there are many such—stand ready to assist financially and otherwise to make this project a success.

The improvements such as are now under way are of the right kind and properly done, but the work must not stop there. The track alone, however fine, is not sufficient inducement to bring the best breeders and horsemen here. The track must be well ventilated and well drained, a tight fence enclosing the entire grounds, the paddocks properly fenced, and a grand stand built, for we will undoubtedly have at least one race meeting for harness horses here each year.

When these things are done and the horsemen know that no expense will be spared by the management to enhance the comfort and accommodation of its patrons we predict that the facilities of the track and stables will be taxed to their utmost by the owners and trainers of the finest horses the world can produce.

The American Sugar Beet Company at Chino has raised the price of beets per ton to $4.25 for next season's crop. This year the same company paid only $3.50 per ton. This will probably cause the price of beets to be advanced in other sections of the country.

The electric light company has given their poles situated in Pleasanton a coat of paint, much improving their appearance. It would not hurt the poles of the telephone company any to have the same kind of a dose given them.

The San Francisco man who shot another because he pulled his whiskers no doubt thought he was doing the right thing. The man who was shot will no doubt in future allow the wind to attend to his friends' whiskers.

A BAD WRECK.

Another bad wreck occurred near Niles last Monday morning. The regular freight train in charge of Conductor J. Ward, which was partially wrecked near San Leandro last week, broke a wheel on one of the cars near the front of the train and piled up six cars in the ditch. Two of them contained merchandise for Livermore and Pleasanton, one was loaded with lumber, one with coal and two were empty. Luckily there was no one on the cars at the time so train crew escaped injury. The trains were all late getting into Pleasanton as a consequence of the wreck.

Charlie Hanson, who has been visiting his brother Jack Hanson, has returned to his home in Mt. Eden.

Miss Hattie Casterson is visiting her sister Miss Tillie Casterson. She will remain in Dougherty about a week.

The bridge work is at last fairly under way, and if the weather continues favorable, will be completed in about eight days.

The Cross Country Club have been unable to take their accustomed evening walks, on account of the dark and cloudy nights.

E. E. Esdon has a number of oddities in kodak pictures. Many are of a new finish and have been looked upon as being very fine work.

Some of the young ladies of Dougherty are planning for a dance in the school-house. In all probability, it will come off on Friday evening, Nov. 23.

It is reported that Ed. Williams has discovered an oil spring on his ranch. It is to be hoped the report is true. We are anxious to experience a boom and much prefer being petrocrats to "sky farmers."

While passing behind a horse recently brought in from pasture, F. Reinstein was kicked in the chest with such force as to produce an alarming hemorrhage. He was taken to Dr. Cope who said there was no injury other than a very severe bruise.

The young ladies of Tassajara gave a party in Peterson's Hall last Friday, and I presume for the sake of brevity, called it a leap year party. The editor of the Danville Sentinel took exception to the misnomer and facetiously implied that we good people of Tassajara are laboring under the delusion that this is a leap year. Indeed, we learned all about leap years about the time we learned our multiplication tables and are even convinced that this is not yet the twentieth century. Perhaps it is wisdom on the part of the young ladies to "take time by the forelock" and "leap" while they may.

Vultures and Rattlesnakes.
When the international boundary commission resurveyed the line between the United States and Mexico, there were naturalists in the party. Dr. Mearns, who, with his assistants, collected many specimens of birds and mammals, tells of a fight in the air between a California vulture and a rattlesnake which he saw while exploring the Cocopah mountains of Lower California.

It was in the early morning. The big bird had seized the snake behind the head and was struggling upward with its writhing, deadly burden. The snake's captor appeared aware that its victim was dangerous. The burden was heavy, as the reptile was nearly five feet long.

The grip of the bird on the snake's body was not of the best. The snake seemed to be squirming from its captor's talons, at least sufficiently to enable it to strike. Its triangular head was seen to recoil and dart at the mass of feathers.

It did this once or twice, and then, with a shriek, the vulture dropped its prey. The bird was probably 500 feet or so above the observers. The astonished men were then treated to a spectacle seldom seen. Few birds but a vulture could accomplish such a feat.

The instant the snake escaped from the bird's clutches it dropped earthward like a shot, and, like a shot, the bird dropped after it, catching it in midair with a grip that caused death. At any rate, the snake ceased to wriggle, and the vulture soared away to a mountain peak to devour its hard earned meal.—Youth's Companion.

Origin of "Under the Rose."

In Greek mythology the rose was the symbol of silence, as it was said that Cupid, the son of Venus, gave the god of silence a golden rose as a bribe to conceal the amours of the goddess of love. It was, therefore, sculptured on the ceilings of banqueting halls and placed in a sign above the doors of questionable resorts. Guests at feasts were frowned with roses to intimate that their conversations while in their cups were not to be repeated elsewhere.

The phrase obtained currency in Greece after Pausanias, the admiral of the Greek fleet, plotted with Xerxes to betray the cause of the Greeks by surrendering the ships, the negotiations being conducted in a small banqueting hall, the roof of which was, as usual, covered with sculptured roses. The plot, however, was discovered and orders given for the arrest of the traitor. Pausanias endeavored to make his refuge in a temple which possessed the right of asylum. Unwilling to violate the sanctity of the place by forcibly removing him and still more unwilling to allow him to escape, his fellow citizens walked up every entrance and, by one account, left him to die of starvation; by another, killed him by unroofing the building and throwing down the tiles on his head.

A Remarkable Railroad.

One of the most remarkable railroads in the United States is that which runs from Pabian, at the foot of Mount Washington, to the summit—a distance of 3.38 miles. The time required in making the ascent is one and one-half hours, which is at the rate of a mile in 27 minutes. The descent is made in the same time. The fare is $4 for the round trip, or at the rate of 60 cents a mile. No other road in the world charges quite so much and few run trains at a speed quite so slow. About 1,000 passengers are carried annually.

Little Lucy's Prayer.

One evening little Lucy knelt to lip her evening prayer. Her little heart was bursting with self satisfaction—the had been so exemplary all through the day. #### Then She Blushed.

In the days when the late Countess of Dartmouth was taking out her daughters—the Ladies Legge—one evening at Stafford House, it fell to the lot of a somewhat deaf functionary to announce the trio. "Lady Dartmouth," called out the man, who had only caught half the sentence. "And the Ladies Legge?" repeated her ladyship. "And the lady's legs!" echoed the servant.

Difficulties in the Way.

"I will make your name a hissing and a byword!" savagely spoke the rejected lover.

"You may make it a byword," the proud beauty remarked with majestic contempt, "but your own good judgment will tell you that you can't do much hissing with such a name as mine."—Chicago Tribune.

Cracks in the Range.

Filling for cracks in a range is made by taking common wood ashes, adding an eighth or more the quantity of salt, mixing the whole to a thick paste with cold water. Fill the crack and usually the filling will remain until the stove is useless. Should it crumble out, "try try again." Blacking can be applied to it as well as to the stove.—Good House-keeping.

FROM ACTRESS TO NEWS GIRL.

A Sorrowful Change in the Life of Palma Schroder.

From the footlights, where a few seasons ago she was a favorite, Palma Schroder has descended to the ranks of the New York newsgirls. Once a queenly beauty, she is now a cripple, supported by crutches. Miss Schroder is a California girl, who first appeared on the stage in "The Streets of New York." Later she took part in other plays and was on the high road to success when, one morning, while riding her wheel to get some medicine for her mother, who was then living with her in New York, she was knocked down by a trolley car, dragged the length of a block and left maimed and helpless. Her mother, also an invalid, proposed suicide, but the younger woman refused. Instead she got a bundle of papers, went on crutches to the door of the Casino, where she had once been a favorite, and took her station as a newsgirl. There she may now be found, night after night, selling her papers and eking out a scanty living for herself and her mother.

Chronic Rheumatism.

This name should, according to all medical usage, represent a continuation of an acute rheumatism in a less violent and painful form, and such cases are actually found under the name chronic rheumatism. Yet this name, as ordinarily employed, designates several affections, all of which are characterized by pains in the joints or in the muscles, which have a tendency to persist indefinitely. There is a form of chronic rheumatism which affects the patient like the acute disease, except that the symptoms are less marked; there may be no fever, the pain and soreness are less intense, the tenderness on pressure is comparatively slight, and the swelling of the joints may be scarcely noticeable. As in the acute variety, various joints are affected successively. The disease may finally become concentrated and remain fixed in a single joint. In this disease there is but little disturbance of the general health, insufficient, indeed, to disturb the patient's avocation. Yet there are instances in which movements of the affected part cause considerable pain, and patients may be even confined to the bed. After long continuance of the disease the affected joints may present irregular enlargements and stiffenings, while the muscles of these limbs become small from lack of use.

In many cases of acute rheumatism the severity of the pain varies extremely with the weather; so that such individuals are usually able to foretell, by a few hours, the occurrence of cold and moist weather. There is a variety of rheumatism, so called, in which the pain is felt chiefly along the leg bones, the "shins," and occurs especially at night.

Treatment—One of the most important features of treatment of chronic rheumatism is care in wearing flannel next to the skin throughout the year. The administration of drugs is by no means certain to produce beneficial results. Some cases are materially benefited by the regular employment of the hot air, or hot vapor bath, the Turkish bath, etc. The fact is, that the treatment of each case of chronic rheumatism is largely an experiment which can be successfully accomplished after considerable time has been spent in trials of drugs and remedial measures. Among the medicines which are most frequently useful are the iodide of potassium, guaiac, and cod liver oil. The following formula may be given:

Iodide of potassium.....Five drachms
Tincture of guaiac.....Two ounces
Water.....Two ounces
Mix, and take a teaspoonful four times a day.

Other cases will be benefited by using colchicum with the alkalis. An example of such mixture is the following:
Wine of colchicum root.....One drachm
Bicarbonate of potassium.....Three drachms
Rochelle salts.....Three drachms
Peppermint water.....Four ounces
Take a tablespoonful three times a day.

A Swim in the Dead Sea.

Every one has heard of the buoyancy of the water of the Dead Sea. It is virtually impossible to sink in the Dead Sea, and so great is the quantity of salt in the water, if you dip your hand in and draw it out again, you will immediately see the salt crystallizing in the sun. It is needless to remark that an involuntary mouthful of Dead Sea water is a horrible experience, never likely to be forgotten by the bather. However, if you don't stay in the water too long, a swim in the Dead Sea is a very extraordinary and pleasurable experience. The shores, as is well known, are strangely desolate, and they are strewn with bits of wood and branches of trees all crusted with brine in the most curious manner, and woe unto any one who goes into this water having open cuts or scratches on his body.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING

The "lucky" advertiser always happens to possess a lot of common sense.—Profitable Advertising.

For local business the local newspapers are by far the best advertising mediums.—The Ad Writer.

Advertising is valuable exactly in proportion to the extent to which the thing advertised is found to bear out the claim made for it.—Montreal (Can.) Witness.

The force and profit of advertising consists in constantly keeping before the people your location what you have to sell, the prices at which you will sell, and in religiously keeping every promise.—St. Louis Star.

The question is often asked, Why is newspaper advertising the most profitable? And it is to be said that most of the answers have failed in giving the actual reason. The first reason is, that the newspaper advertisements find the public mind when it is in an explanatory and receptive condition. When a person in his own time is reading a newspaper, he will naturally take in with the news of the outside world those facts which are of use in management of his home and the purchase of his supplies. The second is, when a seller puts his advertisement in a newspaper he at once enters into open competition with all others in the same line of business; his facts and prices are stated with the knowledge that they will be noted by these competitors as well as by the public, while the advertiser by circular or sign seems to be endeavoring to do a quiet, non-competitive business.—Paterson (N. J.) News.

An Editor's Experience.

ARMY LIFE CAUSES PHYSICAL AND MENTAL DISABILITY FOR MANY YEARS.

Rescued from Death by Reading an Advertisement—A Journalist of Note Advises His Readers and Friends.

From Farmer & Dairyman, North Yakima, Wash.

In 1883 I entered the regular U. S. Army and was assigned to Co. "E," Sixth Infantry, then stationed at Fort Douglas, Utah. My boyhood days had been spent on a farm in Kentucky, but I had not been accustomed to manual labor for several years previous to entering upon active military duties. The constant and excessive daily drills, sleeping in tents and general exposure of a severe winter, brought on a peculiar nervous trouble, which soon incapacitated me for all garrison work.

The post surgeon ordered me to the hospital and diagnosed my case as muscular rheumatism. My lower limbs seemed to be dying—losing all sense of outward feeling. The most excruciating pains made me almost wild with misery and I could not stand alone. My appetite was ravenous, digestion perfect, lungs strong and general health good except for this distressing disability.

After several days' treatment with no change, the surgeon concluded I had heart failure. He prescribed tincture of digitalis, and gave me several ounces of this without any effect, except that I kept getting worse. In the fall of 1884, I was discharged on surgeon's certificate of disability, and began the difficult task of existing and trying to regain my health in a strange land, surrounded by unsympathetic people.

My condition continued to grow more alarming. I was compelled to use a heavy staff to prevent falling. All attempts at manual and mental labor were made under exasperating difficulties. I seemed about one-half dead. My weight was less than 140 pounds, though I was over six feet in height. I tried electricity with no avail. Several local physicians gave me treatment which was not effective. Many well advertised remedies for nervous debility were taken with no satisfactory results.

I read all the medical authorities obtainable, and finally found my symptoms under the head of Locomotor Ataxia. The author said there was no cure for the disease, and I believed him. He recommended a mixture of iodide of potassium and sarsaparilla, as a possible aid to existence. I took several bottles of this formula and double the strength. This failing, I made up my mind to die as soon as possible. There was no comfort, pleasure or happiness in life which knew nothing but pain.

One day I read the experience of a man who had been afflicted with Locomotor Ataxia, and cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I bought one box and tried the remedy, following the directions very closely. This had a little effect, and I procured a half dozen boxes, and took them before I was convinced a cure was possible. I began with one pill after each meal, in a few days I took two, and finally used one box a week. My pains gradually disappeared, color came to my flesh, I could walk, run and jump, and actually dispensed with a cane.

Words cannot portray my feelings. Today I weigh 200 pounds, am perfectly healthy and feel twenty years younger than I did ten years ago. Journalists and all brain workers are liable to afflictions such as I suffered. To all such I would advise the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in connection with cold water bathing, morning and evening. I will cheerfully answer any and all questions asked by those afflicted.

A blunted understanding is of no more service to humanity than a dull razor.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. ## LOST RACE OF TEXAS.

Prehistoric City Near Galveston Engulfed by a Tidal Wave.

Relics of a prehistoric race were discovered in Galveston, Texas, just previous to the storm that flooded the city. Nearly 2,000 human skeletons were found, and scientists who examined the excavations had just given the opinion that an ancient city had been submerged by a tidal wave that drowned all the inhabitants, when the calamity of centuries ago was repeated.

The bones were discovered in a search for relics for the archaeological exhibit at the Pan-American exposition, which is to be held in Buffalo, N. Y., next summer. The skeletons are beyond a doubt several thousand years old, and the character of the people who occupied the coast of the gulf at this period is an interesting subject for speculation. Whoever they may have been and whenever they may have lived, the remains found show beyond a question that some terrible outbreak of nature caused the sudden death of thousands of these ancient people and their burial in the strata where by chance they were exhumed by the people of a far-distant age.

It was but a short time ago that the excavations were begun which resulted in these singular and extraordinary discoveries. The finding of the remains in the first place was quite accidental. H. J. Simmons, superintendent of the Arizona and New Mexico Railway, was making excavations along the lines of the railroad near Clear Creek, Galveston County, when bones were found in the earth removed. On examination of the contents of the steam shovel, skulls and human teeth were noticed, and further search led to the discovery of skeletons of whole families, together with ivory beads and other objects of human handiwork.

Realizing the valuable and scientific character of the discovery, a systematic search of the strata in the vicinity was made. Geologists say the whole section of the State was once covered by the Gulf of Mexico. The idea at once came to Mr. Simmons that in far distant ages a tidal wave had occurred at the time the gulf covered more of that part of the country than at present and that these bones were the remains of the thousands of human beings who had been drowned in the overflow of the waters of the gulf. His theory was later upheld by leading scientists.

DARING OF AN EQUILIBRIST.

Performed Feats on the Great Andean Balancing Stone.

Nature does many strange things—and so does man. Yet it is seldom that the two combine. A singular instance of this, however, recently happened in the Argentine Republic. At Tandil is a remarkable rocking stone, curiously placed on one of the peaks of the Andes, in the midst of the picturesque hills of blue granite which furnish paving stones for the capital. So unique is this that all travelers passing in the neighborhood make a point of going to see this freak of nature.

Happening to hear of it lately, a

FEAT OF AN EQUILIBRIST.

South American equilibrist was struck with the bright idea of giving his performance on the balancing stone, and a large number of people assembled from far and near to witness this novel performance. Having commenced by climbing to the top of the stone with characteristic agility, the acrobat coolly went through all the tricks in his repertoire one after another, his efforts being liberally punctuated by the hearty applause of his gathering.

A Jacket of Many Garments.

Although Gordon declined to accept the bow's of gold offered him by the Chinese emperor after the suppression of the Taiping rebellion, yet he consented to receive the yellow jacket, a distinction limited to 12 wearers, who constitute the imperial bodyguard.

When the presentation of so exalted an oriental order took place, there was a most remarkable ceremony observed by the Celestial grandees commissioned to personally confer the high mark of the emperor's favor.

To Gordon's evident astonishment, the operation of donning the yellow jacket in its entirety was a considerable undertaking, for between two and three hours the great but simple minded soldier was engaged in putting on one suit and taking off another until a most extensive wardrobe had been gone through.

It comprised silk dresses, robes, jackets, hats, caps, boots, shoes, fans, girdles, thumb rings of jade and necklaces for all seasons and occasions.

The yellow jacket in its actuality was the last item of the raiment bearing its name in which Gordon was arrayed.—Pearson's Weekly.

Returns Were Not Adequate.

A minister in Glasgow, says The Scottish-American, asked an urchin who was standing looking in at one of the Sabbath school windows how he would like to join the Sunday school and grow up a good man.

"What sort o' Sunday schule is't? 'Stablished?'"

"Yes," said the clergyman. "It is connected with the Established church. Are you not coming in?"

"Na," replied the boy. "I tried the 'Stablished Kirk Sunday schule last year, an I only got twa fardin oranges an a pock o' sweeties at the Christmas tree, sae I'm gaun ta gie the Free Kirk a trial this year."

The Early Bird.

Ethel—Do you like Mr. Eames, mamma?

Mamma (a young widow)—Why, y-e-s, darling.

Ethel—And Mr. Webster?

Mamma—Yes, dear.

Ethel—And Mr. Fish and Mr. Dixon and Mr. Sheldon?

Mamma—I like them all, pet.

Ethel—Which one are you going to marry, then?

Mamma—The one who proposes first, darling.—Harlem Life.

What Women Admire in Men.

What we admire most in men is a loving appreciation of ourselves. The most admirable man is he who makes a comfortable home for the woman who loves him and who delights to make that home bright and cheery for his sake, for, after all, it is what we love in them that is the important factor in the well being of the world.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The highest point at which flowering plants have been found was recorded at 19,200 feet. Nine species were recorded at 19,000 feet or higher.

The average height of a man is 5 feet 8 1/4 inches.

Military Automobiles.

The advantages presented by automobiles have a great fascination for all military men. Large sums have been offered for the best automobile. In war, as in everything, it pays to use the best weapons. The best shield with which to protect the stomach is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It cures constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, and prevents malaria.

Teacher—I'm glad to see you take such an interest in chemistry, Johnny. Are you going to be a chemist when you grow up? Johnny—No, ma'am; I'm going to own a maple sugar and syrup factory.

The man with the hoe is entitled to a grub stake.

Prof. A. Van der Naillen, the founder of the Van der Naillen Engineering School, of San Francisco, has returned from his annual trip in Europe, bringing new apparatus and much scientific data, gathered from a five months' stay at the Paris exposition.

Men seldom, or rather never, for a length of time and deliberately, rebel against anything that does not deserve rebelling against.

There are 4,200 species of plants used for commercial purposes. Of these 420 are used for perfumes.

Contagious Blood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be too sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and Potash for months or years, and pronounced cured—to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up—life, for it remains smoldering in the system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and it does this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

SSS cures Contagious Blood Poison in any and all stages; contains no mineral to break down your constitution; it is purely vegetable and the only blood purifier known that cleanses the blood and at the same time builds up the general health.

Our little book on contagious blood poison is the most complete and instructive ever issued; it not only tells all about this disease, but also how to cure yourself at home. It is free and should be in the hands of everyone seeking a cure. Send for it.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not add their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.

DEATH OF MRS. PONCE.

Mrs. Maria T. Ponce died last Monday morning after a long illness, and was buried in St. Augustine cemetery at Pleasanton on Wednesday. Mrs. Ponce was born in Santa Cruz nearly sixty-two years ago, but has lived near Pleasanton most of her life, she having removed here when but 16 years of age. She was married twice and her second husband and seven children, namely Dennis Bernal, Mrs. Delfina Laumister, Mrs. Rita Bernal, Mrs. A. R. Amador, Fred, Gerome and Ed. Ponce, survive her.

Mrs. Ponce has been a sufferer for some time and her patience and fortitude in her affliction endeared her to her many friends and acquaintances who join with the surviving relatives in their sorrow.

Mrs. Ponce left an estate valued at about $10,000.

UTILIZING THE WATER.

Work has been commenced on two large concrete locks in the large canal on the Lillenthal place to hold water for dredging and irrigating purposes. The Rancho Del Valle has a plan under consideration by which all the water of the canals on the property can be utilized. A part of the plan is the erection of a large pumping plant which can be used to furnish water for sprinkling the new county road now being built between this city and Dublin. There are also many other uses to which the water can be put, such as irrigating the land for beets or alfalfa during dry seasons, thus insuring a good crop in any season.

A REAL ESTATE DEAL.

A real estate deal of considerable magnitude was closed the early part of this week.

H. B. Oxsen and A. Both, a brother-in-law of Mr. Oxsen, have purchased all the property of the First National Bank of Oakland, of which P. A. Bowles is President. The property consists of 101 acres of land and improvements situated about two miles north of town. It is impossible to ascertain the exact amount paid for the property but it is understood to be in the neighborhood of $20,000. The property will be occupied by Mr. Oxsen.

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS.

The following is a correct list of meetings at which the various Republican county candidates will speak. Saturday, Oct. 27th, Haywards; Monday, Oct. 29, Pleasanton; Tuesday, Oct. 30th, Oakland and Niles; Wednesday Oct. 31st, West Oakland and Irvington; Thursday, Nov. 1st, Sunol and West Berkeley; Friday Nov. 3d, Livermore; Monday, Nov. 5th, Oakland.

There will be a meeting at the Rose Hotel this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a gun club. All persons interested in hunting or the protection of game are requested to attend.

Mrs. May Webster left Monday for the Bay cities, where she will visit relatives before returning to her home in Stockton.

It Dazzles the World.

The discovery in medicine has ever created one quarter of the excitement that has been caused by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Its severest tests have been on hopeless victims of Consumption, Pneumonia, Hemorrhage, Pleurisy and Bronchitis, thousands of whom it has restored to perfect health. For Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Hay Fever, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough it is the quickest surest cure in the world. It is sold by Culter & Silver who guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Large bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

COMMENTS.

THE PLEASANTON TIMES, has changed ownership, Fred E. Adams now having charge. Judging from the improved appearance of the paper Mr. Adams will make a success in Pleasanton.—Crockett Signal.

Ross Campbell has sold the PLEASANTON TIMES to Fred E. Adams. A decided improvement in the appearance of the paper is the result.—Danville Sentinel.

THE PLEASANTON TIMES has been purchased by Fred E. Adams. He is a practical printer and editor of experience and the first issue of the paper under his management shows great improvement. The Republican wishes him success in his editorial venture.—Solano Republican.

Fred E. Adams, a newspaper man of considerable experience, has purchased the PLEASANTON TIMES, and from this time on that paper will be conducted in an up-to-date manner. In politics it will be non-partisan, favoring what it believes to be good and condemning what it believes to be bad. We bespeak for Bro. Adams a large patronage.—Washington Press.

The PLEASANTON TIMES comes to our desk, after an absence of several months, with the name of Fred E. Adams as editor. The paper is gotten up in a neat and attractive style, and gives promise of taking its place among the best of the Alameda county weeklies. We extend fraternal greetings and our best wishes to the new editor. Pleasanton has long needed a good paper with a man at the helm, and we believe they have finally secured it.—Niles Herald.

Troubles of a Minister.

To benefit others Rev. J. T. W. Vernon, of Hartwell, Ga., writes: "For a long time I had running sore on my leg. I tried many remedies without benefit until I used a bottle of Electric Bitters and a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me sound and well." Sores, Eruptions, Boils, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum show impure blood. Thousands have found in Electric Bitters a grand blood purifier that absolutely cures these troubles. Satisfaction is guaranteed or money refunded by Culter & Silver. Large bottles only 50c.
